- A California State University-East Bay professor has decorated the door to her office with signs declaring that “Republicans are heartless a**holes” and “F**k the A**hole in Chief.”
- Members of the school's YAF chapter spotted the signs and posted an image to Twitter, after which the prof asserted that she is “just exercising my First Amendment rights.”

A professor at California State University-East Bay displays signs on her office window declaring that “Republicans are heartless a**holes” and “F**k the A**hole in Chief.”

The signs were spotted at the office of Assistant Professor Monique Manopoulos by members of the CSU East Bay Young Americans for Freedom (YAF) chapter, which posted an image of the signs to Twitter Thursday afternoon.

The YAF chapter president, Bruce Rodriguez, told Campus Reform that the signs were discovered in Manopoulos’s office, which is located within the Student Faculty Support Building.

“I’m fine with her being able to express an opinion, and if she’s willing to have a dialogue that’s great.”

Campus Reform reached out to the French professor, who responded that she is “just exercising my First Amendment right.” She did not care to elaborate.

“I’m fine with her being able to express an opinion,” Rodriguez remarked, “and if she’s willing to have a dialogue that’s great.”

Only one review mentioned Manopoulos having a political bias on her RateMyProfessors page, warning prospective students that “If you want to learn all about the professor's personal opinions about politics and her life story, enjoy.” The others were universally positive, with one comment praising her “francophone rap/hip hop class” an “easy peasy” way to fulfill an upper-level general education requirement.

Manopoulos is hardly the only professor to publicly defame Republicans broadly, though.

In August, for instance, a Clemson University professor proclaimed on Facebook that “All trump supporters, nay, all Republicans, are racist scum.” Before the end of the year, a Virginia Tech professor joined the chorus, tweeting that “the modern GOP is nothing but white supremacy.”

Shortly after dozens of people were shot at a Texas church, meanwhile, another professor felt compelled to issue an apology after tweeting that “the GOP and NRA must, in fact, want mass shootings” because “it serves their interests.”

Campus Reform reached out to CSU-East Bay for comment, but has not received a response.

Help uncover the stories the mainstream media wants to hide

As a CampusReform.org reader, you’ve watched indoctrination at America’s universities go from bad to worse.

Conservative students are not only pummeled with ideology from professors—they are now openly bullied and mocked for their beliefs by both faculty and fellow students alike.

But the mainstream media won’t report on this.

Fight back against media bias.

CampusReform.org has resolved to fight back. Every day, our on-campus correspondents shine a light on the outrageous discrimination and abuse conservative students face.

But since CampusReform.org doesn't have the corporate funding of mainstream media organizations—who repeatedly refuse to cover these stories—our ability to report the truth relies on the help of concerned Americans like you to turn these attacks into national headlines.

Millions of Americans regularly learn the truth through CampusReform.org. Will you help reach millions more with your gift today?
